Dr. Scott Holbrook died at Blaine last Friday, after a long illness. He was a son of Mint Holbrook, and a brother of R. W. Holbrook, County Superintendent of Schools.

The lock-tenders' houses on the government property have been painted a canary color, with white trimmings. L. B. Ferguson was the contractor.

Dr. Boland and Rev. H. B. Howlett left Tuesday to attend the conference of the M. E. Church, South, which convened in Charleston Wednesday.

Mrs. Olivia Strachan, widow of George Strachan, formerly of this place, died at Huntington recently. She was an excellent woman and was highly respected here.

Rev. G. W. Howes, pastor of the M. E. Church at this place, did not go the annual conference at Louisville, which met yesterday. He was detained by the illness and death of Mrs. T. S. McClure.

J. W. Jones is building a new house to be used by him as a residence. It is on Franklin street, between Jefferson and Lady Washington streets. E. B. Fitch is also building a residence on that street.

Rev. W. S. Gamboe, of Ashland, is here assisting Rev. John Stambaugh in a series of meetings being held at the city hall. It is said the Christian Church will erect a building at Louisa in the near future.

Sam V. Peters and Miss Emma Sipple, daughter of Wm. Sipple, all of Wayne county, W. Va., were married last Thursday afternoon at Dr. Bromley's residence in Louisa, by Rev. S. E. Reynolds. The groom is a son of Wm. D. Peters, and this is his second marriage.

William Barnard died Tuesday at his home four miles below Louisa, after a brief illness. The cause of his death is not known. His suffering was of a most terrible nature. A wife and five children survive him. He was a good citizen and unusually industrious man.

The trial of A. K. Emmett, charged with being one of the three men who robbed the Louisa postoffice in December 1900, comes up in U.
S. Court at Frankfort this week.
Col. Northrup, Chas. Hammond,
Chas. Rice, J. A. Abbott and W. S.
DeRosier are there as witnesses.

Wm. Sipple, age 53, a resident of Mill Creek, W. Va., a few miles from Louisa, was painfully injured at Col. Northrup's hotel Tuesday. He had sold and delivered some ties and was up on the track of the hotel. A car approached from the rear and struck him, sending him down between the ties.
His injuries are not thought to be of a serious nature.

Rev. J. T. French has secured a transfer from the Texas Conference, to the West Virginia Conference, of the M. E. Church, South, and is attending the annual meeting of this Conference now in session at Charleston.

Rev. French was formerly pastor of the M. E. Church, South, in Louisa. He was very popular and did effective work here. He transferred to the Texas Conference on account of poor health, and is now said to be fully restored.

L. T. McClure, of this place, has been appointed a special employe or agent under U. S. Internal Revenue Agent W. H. H. Bowen, whose division includes Ohio, Indiana, and portions of Michigan and Kentucky with headquarters at Cincinnati. The appointment was made by Commissioner Yorkes, and is in the nature of a promotion, and Mr.
McClure is being congratulated by his acquaintances in the service upon securing such a desirable position. He will take his family to Cincinnati within the next few days.
Earl will attend the University and Arch the high school of that city. John Cummings will take charge of the Brunswick Hotel.

The Big Sandy Oil and Gas Company will begin on October 1 to lay its main for the purpose of piping into the city of Charleston a supply of gas from its wells on Big Sandy.

Smallpox has broken out again in the vicinity of East Lynn. Three different families are affected, one on Big Lynn, one on Newcomb, and the other on Peter Cave. It is said that the disease was spread from the house at Dunlow, occupied by Jones S. Ross, at the time his wife was stricken and died.

Ed Hazlette, son of Robert Haz-lette, the Ceredo merchant, has been entirely blind for the past week. For some time he has been afflicted with sore eyes and a few days ago went up the line of the N.
& W. to accept a position in a sawmill. After having worked a day or so his eyesight failed him altogether. He was brought home and has not been able to see any since.
Dr. Moore, the specialist of Huntington, is treating him, and thinks he may be able to restore his sight.

The Wayne County Republican convention, held at Wayne, made the following nominations: For House of Delegates, T. T. McDougall and John Hollandsworth; Clerk of the Circuit Court, Wm. Napier; Superintendent of Schools, John Debow; Members of County Court, John Malcom and Wm.
Jones. The candidacy of James A.
Hughes for re-election to Congress from the Fourth District and the candidacy of J. L. Caldwell for the United States Senate were endorsed.
T. T. McDougall is editor of the Ceredo Advance.

The new famous block of coal lands, situated in this county, controlled by Judge E. S. Doolittle and the Ensign estate, of Huntington, and Everett Lettwich, of this place, has been sold to a syndicate of Ohio coal operators and dealers, composed of Horace Chapman and Jones and Jewett. The purchasers are to develop the coal at once and will soon have operations going on on this valuable property.
The tract contains 5,000 acres of the most valuable coal land in the state, and lies on the Norfolk and Western about three miles west of Williamson. The purchase price was $100,000, cash, which will go out to our people and benefit our entire community.—Southern West Virginian.

An occasion which promises to out-do anything which has occured in Wayne county for a long time will be a reunion of the Adkins family which will take place at the Booter Chapel on Millers Fork, Saturday Oct. 11. There are said to be over two thousand members and relatives of the family in that county. Besides hundreds of them in adjoining counties—not a few of whom are in this city and community. In numbers the Adkins family in Wayne can easily outnumber the Smiths, the Joneses the Browns, combined, hence the gathering will no doubt be the biggest one ever held in the county.
There is to be a basket dinner provided by those in the immediate neighborhood who will see that those from a distance are provided for. Most of the Adkinses in Wayne are well to do people and will see to it that it will be a feast of fat things to their numerous kinsmen.—Huntington Herald.

Within the past few days Pitt and S. Floyd Hord, of Ceredo, have brought suit in the Circuit Court of Wayne county against the Huntington and Big Sandy Railroad Company, the Ohio River Railroad Company and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad Company for $10,000, claimed as payment of the right-of-way of the Huntington & Big Sandy railroad, which was built through their lands in Ceredo in 1890.

They allege the Huntington & Big Sandy Railroad Company agreed to pay $10,000 for the right-of-way when the road was constructed and afterward leased their road for ninety-nine years to the Ohio River Company, which in turn sold out to the B. & O., and they have not yet been paid for the right of way.

Both sides have the very best of legal talent and no doubt the case will be hotly contested from start to finish.

The Supreme Grand Lodge of the Mutual Protective Association known as the "Mules" elected the following officers for the ensuing year. Nelson Klalber, of Garner, Supreme Past Grand Counselor; W. E.
Duvall, of Denton, Supreme Grand Counselor; M. J. Jordan, Olive Hill, Supreme Treasurer; John Chaffin, Wayne, W. Va., Supreme Vice Counselor; Jerome Duall, Denton, Supreme Secretary; W. C.
Mowery, Wurtland, Supreme Inside Sentinel; William Martin, Ceredo, W. Va., Supreme Outside
Sentinel; G. W. Howe, Pollard, Supreme Chaplain. The 1903 session goes to Wayne, W. Va.

Among Conley's new books are:

Kehoe to Speak at Louisa.

Congressman James N. Kehoe, the able representative of the Ninth district, will speak at the court house in Louisa on the third Monday in October, at one o'clock p. m. Every voter in Lawrence county is invited to hear him discuss the great issues of the day.
He is able to elucidate the knotty questions of the hour and all should hear him, whether they agree with him in politics or not.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

On account of the annual encampment, G. A. R., Washington, D. C., Oct. 6 to 11, 1902, the C. & O. railway will sell excursion tickets from any point on the Big Sandy division to Washington city and return for $10. Tickets on sale from Oct. 3d to 6th, good returning till Oct. 11. May be extended to Nov. 3 by depositing ticket and paying 50c fee.

The Lawrence County Fair.

There is no longer any doubt that our fair today and tomorrow will be by far the most successful ever held in the county. The premium list is much more attractive and covers a wider range than ever before. The interest manifested in advance is greater than ever before.

The revised and completed list of premiums is printed on another page in this issue of the News, and all who are at all interested should read it again.

We hope to see greater interest than heretofore in the discussion of farm topics.

Railroad News.

The three miles of N. & W. railroad construction from the government property in Cassville to Harricane has been contracted to Savage & Houston, of Ashland, who also have six miles below there.

At Round Bottom the N. & W. line runs out over the river bank where it has been breaking badly, and it looks like a difficult task is in store for the company in keeping a roadbed there. This location was necessary in order to avoid a sharper curve than the maximum established for this line.

Two tunnels are being built on the N. & W. between here and Naughtuck. Both were made necessary by sharp bends in the river. One of these tunnels is 4,000 feet long, but it saves a considerable distance and gives a straight course instead of a sharp curve.

The contractors up the N. & W. above here are unable to get many needed supplies, on account of the low stage of the river.

The Seaboard Airline engineering corps that has been at work along Tug river for several months, is now three miles above here.
They do not average half-a-mile per day.

All the trestles between Big Sandy bridge and Richardson, on the Big Sandy division of the C. & O., have been filled except the one at Griffith's creek, where the arch culvert is not yet completed.

Death of Mrs. T. S. McClure.

After several years of ill health and many months of intense suffering, the earthly existence of Mrs. T. S. McClure came to an end at two o'clock last Tuesday afternoon. To her the Death Angel must have been a welcome messenger, worn and racked with pain as she was, and already to enter upon the better life that awaits the faithful christian.

During the past eight weeks she had been at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. C.
McClure, at Gallup; and in her last hours she was surrounded by family and friends. Every wish of hers that it was possible to carry out was met by the devoted husband and other relatives. For a long time it had been plain to all that she could not recover.
Heart disease, bringing about a fatal form of dropsy, was the cause of her death. The trouble began about eight years ago, and for the last four years she had been a confirmed invalid.

The funeral took place Thursday morning at nine o'clock at Gallup, and a special train took the remains to Ashland immediately afterward for interment in the cemetery.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. G. W. Howes, pastor of the M. E. Church, and Rev.
Pendleton, of the Walnut Hills Christian Church, Cincinnati, the latter being a particular friend of the family.

Mrs. Mary Davis McClure was 38 years old; a consistent christian and member of the M. E. Church.
She was married ten years ago to Mr. T. S. McClure, and he survives her, together with her mother, the widow of Mitchell Davis; and a sister, Miss Rebecca Davis; and brother, T. J. Davis, cashier of the First National Bank of Cincinnati.

Recently an inquisitive woman was talking to James Whitcomb Riley on how poorly paid was the profession of literature. "But Mr.
Riley," said she, "surely you have no cause for complaining. You must be a very rich man. I understand you get a dollar a word for all you write." "Yes, madam," said Riley, with his slow drawl, "but sometimes I sit all day and can't think of a darned word."

late at Jefferson Medical College.

Our people are much encouraged over the prospects of a new road up our creek. A thing most needed of all things now in this county. The new review is supposed to take the road out of the creek as far as possible. The road now crosses the creek twenty times, and in icy weather it is almost impossible to travel. A road of more importance is not to be found anywhere in the county as it is an outlet direct from Steep Gut, Meads Branch, Georges creek, the bend of the river and a direct route to Paintsville and upper Sandy towns.
The willingness of the free holders on the line to allow passage through farms &c, is openly expressed, and no reason now prevails why the road should not be built in the near future.

A little altercation occurred on our creek last week which came near resulting fatally; but fortunately better judgment prevailed and nothing serious occurred.

Atty. D. C. O'Neal was a legal visitor here last week, with encouraged prospects for another visit soon.

Mrs. John Graham, of Huntington, daughter of our venerable Clergyman, Rev. John R. Chapman, is visiting here.

The members of the Upper Pike Creek school will give a pie mite soon for the purpose of purchasing an International Dictionary and globes for the school.

The following pupils were neither tardy nor absent at school during the month ending September 22d.

Little Gunnell, Mart Cochran, Charley Stratton, Andy New, Fred, Ira, Lee and Andy See, Neva Miller, Gipsy Thompson, Willie Compton, Dave, Mary Ellen and Peggy See and Albert Peterman.

Jesse Thompson, whose foot was badly crushed by a falling cross-tie recently, is out again. He is much improved.

The funeral of George Thompson oh Little Blaine was largely attended by our people.
